

Mr. BRES TOURS is hereby authorized to transact for us any business connected with the NEWS and JOURNAL OFFICE, of this city.

ON THE OUTSIDE OF THIS ISSUE.—First Page—Poetry.

The light which dawned upon the condition of the American sailor is again quickly obscured. The efforts which were making to break up the system of advance wages have proved abortive. MONEY, the Patron saint of the great cities, the god before whom merchants bow with unquestionable reverence, has issued his fiat, and Philanthropy in her late struggle to mitigate the wrongs of the sailor, has had to retire from an unequal contest. It is proposed now that Congress should amend the marine code as to render void all contracts with seamen which involve payment of wages in advance of services rendered. We have very little to hope from this quarter. Jack has no influence at court; he can neither persecute nor promote Congressmen in office, increase their legitimate pay, or afford them additional facilities for the plunder of their masters' crib. He is poor in his own right, and they rich in the rights of their constituents.

We say that we see no new light, no relief coming from this quarter. But it seems inevitable, that our sailors must continue in a state of abject servitude which in point of practical wrongs is more oppressive, and in a moral view more debasing than the slavery of the South.

"Harper's Monthly Magazine" for August, lies at our elbow. The number is rich with illustrations and tales. The Editor's Table, Easy Chair and Draw, all teem with entertainment and instruction. Regarding the trifling price for which this periodical can be purchased, in any quarter of the Union each successive copy seeming to spring spontaneously from the mighty steam-rolled presses, fills us with renewed admiration. This present number boasts of four well written articles, copiously embellished with prints. Their titles are, "North Carolina Illustrated," "Wheat and its Associations," "The State's General," "A Jaunt in Java." They contain valuable information, as well as ample material for amusement. "Buy Harper and it will do you good," as the doctors say of their drugs. Published by Harper & Brothers, New York. For sale at A. J. Ward's, 130 Thames street.

A BURGLAR'S DEN.—The New York Evening Post gives the following description of the house of Pelisier, the Italian, who murdered policeman Anderson in New York:

"He occupied rooms upon the second floor of 120 Worth street, an old three story building.

An Italian woman was the only person found upon the premises, and she was at once arrested and taken into custody. Two muskets, several pistols, four pounds of balls a keg and canister of powder, with a quantity of shot and bowie knives, &c., were found in his room. It had the look of an arsenal; and judging from the appearance, the presumption is that this man has played the most desperate part in the most desperate crimes. Not only was a large quantity of arms and ammunition found, but a great amount of costly and valuable property. Several hundred dollars worth of diamonds, two splendid gold watches, and a great amount of jewelry were discovered. There was also much costly wearing apparel for men and women. No less than thirty-five silk dresses, with garments to match, were found in the woman's room.

RESULT OF GOOD CONDUCT.—There lives in affluence at Nantuxet, in the eightieth year of his age, and in the full possession of a sound intellect, and the enjoyment of all the respect and affection which a well spent life commands, a retired whaling captain, the keel of whose ship never touched the bottom,—who was never at sea a day without going aloft, except in a gale of wind,—who never lost a man by abandonment or otherwise, or who had one off duty more than a week by sickness,—who never lost but one spar, though distinguished for making short passages,—who never returned from a voyage without a full cargo of sperm oil. He had sixteen apprentices, mostly uneducated boys from the lower walks of life, whom he instructed and trained to his own calling, and every one of these he has lived to see in respectable standing, and several of them holding high rank as ship masters.—N. Y. Jour. of Com.

GEN. JACKSON'S GOLD BOX.—The Troy Budget apprehends that the unseemly contest for this prize, whose only value consists in its being awarded without being claimed, will "do as much to depreciate the standard of our military men abroad as it will to create dissensions among them at home." It will do neither. Those men whose superlative courage has not been discerned till they came forward to prove it and who set themselves up as the bravest of the brave, will not be taken ahead as the standard of the American soldier, or be likely to create much dissension at home. The whole course of the award has been to degrade the prize, which will probably go to the most impudent instead of to the bravest.

The Mayor of Hartford receives a salary of $300. An attempt to raise it to $600, and that of the City Clerk to $300, and that of the Treasurer to $100, has been defeated. The City Auditor has $30 a year.

Geo. Peabody offers $10,000 to the city of Newburyport for any benevolent object its authorities may specify.

LOCAL NEWS.

At the last meeting of the Board of Aldermen and of the Common Council, a committee was appointed to report upon the expediency of providing public Seales on the site of Liberty Square. Several weeks ago we called attention to the conveniences and necessities of such an arrangement, and are gratified to find that our remarks have elicited a response of the right kind on the part of the city Government. We desire to render that much—badgered body all sufficient praise, whenever it fairly proves a disposition to act up to a reasonable standard of good will and good sense. Hence we are happy to notice so signal a mark of reform in its deliberations. Taken in connection with the wise composition of difficulties between it and the Gas Co., this little mite of sober utility assumes respectable, and what is far more hopeful dimensions. We earnestly commend to them, enterprise and perseverance in the right direction in the future.

The desirableness of employing gas for fuel has long occupied public attention. No means were for a long time reached by which that article could be rendered available for such a purpose at anything like economical rates. Stoves were adapted to its consumption, and very successfully; though as, unfortunately, they did nothing else but consume, they were soon discarded as unsatisfactory and extravagant contrivances, in spite of their extreme neatness and their facilities in the way of kindling. But at last, it has come to pass that Yankee ingenuity has asserted itself. Mr. W. P. Shaw of Boston, has invented, and patented in America, England and France, stoves, both cooking and ornamental, which are calculated to satisfy the most scrupulous admirer of economy and comfort combined. The material burned in these stoves is a union of Gas and atmospheric air; by this union every unpleasant and hurtful odor is avoided. Mr. Shaw received from the "Massachusetts Charitable Mechanic Association" the first premium and the only gold medal ever conferred on Gas stoves. Geo. T. Hathaway is the agent for their sale in Providence. See advertisement.

It is not without a tinge of sympathetic sadness that we record the death of the oldest horse in the country, who laid down his aged bones to rest at the Redwood Farm on this island, last Wednesday morning. He had nearly reached the age (45 years) at which soldiers, and of course old horses earn the title of "emeritus." We may truly say of him that he always did as well as he knew how, and of what horse or man could we say more? But he is gone. "Abraham" is gathered to his fathers. Few were they that followed him to his last resting place beside the great rock, but there are many hearts from which the memory of "the old horse" will not soon pass away.

We have received from Ward's music store two more Sonatas by "Diabelli." They are quite equal to the preceding ones, and will no doubt be well appreciated by all young pianists, as they are intended for them by the composer.

"Texas star Schottish" By C. Gustave Pitze, and Farewell waltz, by Marin Lowden, are both pretty.

"Lucresia Borgia" by S. Thalberg, is a very beautiful fantasia, but so difficultly arranged that none but the most advanced pupils could possibly play it.

"My heart is like a silent lute" Air by F. Luckley, arrangement by F. N. Crouch.—The air is very pleasing, and the words are well adapted to the music.

"Tajolille file du Perth" by Duvernoy is one of the most beautiful romances that we have ever heard.

Two preludes and fugues, by Sebastian Bach, these are intended by the composer as studies for the more advanced pupils, and are considered by most music-masters as the finest we have.

"The Emily polka" by Mrs. Wm. Garrett, and the "Passage-awaking polka" by B. F. S. are two very pretty Polkas, especially the Emily; it has been played by the Germania serenade band with great success.

"Fantasie d'un amateur," is a soft and sweet air, arranged as a nocturno.

"Laughing Rill Waltz," by George Byron Ware, is a simple, easy little waltz—that we liked very much.

"La fille du regiment," arranged for four hands. This does not need anything said in its praise, as the opera is so well known and appreciated by all lovers of good music. "Come into the Garden, Maud," by W. W. Balfe, "Morceaux" by E. A. Mosmer, and "Sisters, now our song we wake," by E. Ross, Jr. The first of these songs has the charm of being original. We never heard anything like it before. The poetry by Alfred Tennyson, is quite as much so as the music.

The next in order is a ballad that we thought quite pretty. The last is a duett; it is something of a sacred piece.

Rev. Dr. Sears, President of Brown University, will preach at the North Baptist Church to-morrow, at 1-2 past 10 and 10 o'clock.

The Rev. Lewis P. W. Balch, D. D. rector of Christ Church, Baltimore, is expected to preach in Zion church, to-morrow morning.

We learn that M. Wickham Hoffman of New York, has taken Wm. H. Ashurst's Cottage on Bellevue Avenue.

Mum de Stoeckel, the Russian Minister, is on his way to Newport.

European Correspondence.

HEIDELBERG, January, 1857.

MY DEAR : My first letter for the New Year shall be to you; and it bears heart-felt wishes to you, all, for a "Happy New Year" from both of us. Your nice long letter of December 31st was most welcome, if possible more so than usual, reaching us at a time, when by reason of the cold and snowy weather of the season, I am almost constantly confined to the house, not even going out to church.

It is a German custom never to warm their Meeting Houses, thinking, I suppose, spiritual warmth should be sufficient; and though the hall where our little band gather to worship is an exception to this rule, yet it is poorly warmed, and in a cold day, uncomfortable.

We have had sleighing here, a little snow in this dry climate making good sleighing. A week ago yesterday, however, a change came over the atmosphere, and the afternoon of the day was springlike—the snow began to melt, and I expected a muddy walk to church on the day following, when lo! as I sat quietly writing, I heard a sound as of a mighty procession, in wooden shoes, passing. I went to the window and saw all Heidelberg—especially women and boys, busily at work with wooden shovels, digging up the snow and carrying it away by baskets full. In a few hours the snow had all vanished; and the next day, as I went to church in the sunshine, the streets were dry and clean enough almost to serve for a table.

The people here have a very pretty way of laying moss in their windows outside, on the sills, and running a short distance up the sides. It serves the same purpose, and certainly looks quite as picturesque as list or cotton.

I send herewith two pictures of Heidelberg, that you and M— can look at and talk over our present abode. Imagine us to be living over behind the church in the picture, which shows the city as it looks from the river Neckar; the other is a representation of the castle court, where I have spent many a pleasant hour the past summer.

What did you do to celebrate Thanksgiving? Some American friends of ours—two young gentlemen from N. York, with the assistance of their landlady, concocted a pumpkin pie! a thing unknown in Deutschland, as pumpkins here are only given to the pigs. The younger of these two patriotic young gentlemen came in the twilight of Thanksgiving evening, bringing a basket containing three pieces of pie—for W—, Mr. M— and myself; and although of course not much like the ancient ones of Grand Anner, yet still we were delighted. I wrote a poetical note of thanks, the last stanza of which ran thus:

"And never, in our memories,
The name of him shall die—
Who out of a poor German squash,
Made Yankee pumpkin pie."

Do you not think I am better? In fact, since my indisposition on the 14th, which I wrote you about, I have enjoyed better health than for years before, having lost that sickly hue I used to have.

After Thanksgiving, you know, comes Christmas. Shall I tell you something of our German Christmas? This festival is universally celebrated in Germany—every family having its tree; and poor people, who scarcely have bread enough to eat, find some means to procure lights for the Christmas tree. They teach their children, in this way, to welcome the Christ-kind, even the students of the University, far from their homes, have their trees in their rooms, and interchange presents. This is always on Christmas eve. So this year we were all invited to Mrs. M—'s the daughter at our landlady. Between six and seven P. M., as it was rainy and muddy, Madame W. and I took a carriage, (droschke,) and called for two young English girls, also invited, drove to Mrs. M—'s. The gentlemen walked. W. M. M., and Dr. W—, with two German Fräuleins—both a little on the shady side of life—completed our party.

The child of the house, little Frank, was in a state of great excitement; but still a little in awe of the Christ-kind, the parents very busy. We were ushered into the dining room, where we sat in curiosity, about half an hour; then a bell was rung—the folding doors thrown open, and we entered the parlor. In the middle of this large room, raised on a table, stood quite a large fir-tree, lighted with small tapers, and hung with fancy cakes, and candies. Below it, on the table, were Frankie's presents—coins, horses, men, women and books. His joy was frantic. On small tables ranged about the room, were the presents for the elder people; each with the name of the receiver upon it; and it was very pleasant to watch the lighting up of the faces of the finders, as they opened a package, and found some wish gratified, or some fancy pleased. We were not forgotten; W. had a pretty cigar ash-receiver, which we imagined, intended as a suggestion, not to leave ashes on the window-sills, or strewn on the floor. His predilection for Swiss cheese was remembered—a large sugar slice, capitolly copied, lying on a plate, with a knife ready, to cut it. Mrs. M. gave me a pretty book-mark; Madame, a transparent screen to hang in my window, and Mr. M. gratified my love of sugar-plums, by giving me a nice box of French bon-bons. W. and I had hardly thought it worth while to show our affection for each other by gifts, but he could not resist the temptation of giving me a neat little purse, which I stood greatly in need of.

After a couple of hours spent in examining presents, and watching the child's manoeuvres, we were called to supper, and he went to bed, with two of the largest horses of his establishment, as bed fellows. The supper was a very substantial one,—cold meat, bread and butter, honey, cheese and cake.

The lady of the house worried me, by running about, and helping to the tea, &c. On speaking of this, and wondering, that she should so have wearied herself, waiting on her guests, I found how ignorant and unappreciative I had been. The greatest attention a hostess can show her guests, is to wait on them herself! We returned after eating, again into the parlor, played cards, chatted, had little cakes handed about, and at 10 came home. These cakes are made only for Christmas. They are little oblong cakes of soap, rather hard and crisp, and bearing a print of Christ in the manger, with inscriptions. There are different prints of course. The next day was so unpleasant, that I could not go to Church, which I very much regretted; the M. * * * family spent the day with us.—I shall I give you the "bill of fare." 1st, soup. 2d, boiled beef. 3d, roast goose stuffed with raisins, and chestnuts, boiled something like spinach, with chestnuts, potatoes and gravy. Dessert, custards little Christmas cakes and wine. Was not that quite a dinner. I know this is not new to you, and nothing very interesting; but I thought you might like to know how we spent Weibach's in Germany. We have nothing in America, to compare with the sugar curiosities, we find here. Everything imaginable, which can be imitated in sugar and jelly, is for sale. I purchased a few things, and shall try to carry them home.

New Year's Eve, or Sylvester Abend, as it is here called, is also celebrated. Everybody sits up, to watch the old year out, and the new one in, and drink punch, in honor of the new arrival.

Madame W * * *, brought us a couple of tumblers and we drank the health of the absent. I do not know what liquor they make use of, but the punch was very good.

We are living very quietly, very well and contented. Yesterday I walked two miles, and came home, not so tired as I expected. Am I not improving? Sunday, after church, the weather was so tempting, I walked up to the Castle; and while standing on the terrace picked these ivy leaves, which I enclose. Good bye * * * *

"I say, old boy," cried Paul Pry to an excavator in North Shields whom he espied at the bottom of a yawning gulf, "what are you digging there?" "A big hole," the old boy replied. Paul was not to be put off in this fashion. "What are you going to do with the hole?" "Going to cut it into small holes," replied the old boy, "and retail them to farmers for gate posts." Paul was sold.

A-las! a-las! as the old bachelor said when he wanted to marry. He made the same exclamation after marriage, but spelt it differently.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

ALPINE HAIR BALM FOR RESTORING GRAY HAIR TO ITS ORIGINAL COLOR.

WARRANTED to cure Baldness, Scurf, Dandruff, itching and all diseases of the skin. This Balm gives the scalp a new and healthy action; restores the coloring matter to the roots of the Hair, which passes through the Hair, and gives it a natural color without the use of Hair Dye.

Hundreds of preparations have been introduced, pretending to preserve the Hair and keep it from falling out, composed of oils, Alcohols and other deleterious materials, and all to no use. Hair Dyes have been introduced, which do not give the Hair a natural color, besides being troublesome to use. This Balm is not a Dye. Knowing that a preparation was needed to do what was required for the Hair, the proprietor was induced to experiment until he could obtain an article that would be the exact remedy. It is soothing and emollient, allays all irritation of the scalp, thereby stopping the hair from falling out. It cures Dandruff and Scurf, and when the Hair is turned gray it will bring it back to its original color. It makes the Hair soft and glossy—prevents it from falling out, and will be given to the roots of the Hair, and growth will soon appear. Growth does not take place at the end of the Hair, as will be seen in persons who have their Hair dyed. If you examine gray hair that has been dyed, you will find that the hair has been dyed, hence it is necessary to have the fluid at the roots of the hair healthy, that the whole hair may be a natural color. Each hair has a root in the skin, and is of itself a hollow, gray tube, through which there is a constant circulation of the pigment from the root. When this pigment or coloring matter dies out, it leaves the hair hollow and it becomes gray. To prevent a Balm that would produce this pigment has become the study of the proprietor. The discovery of the Alpine Hair Balm will do it. It will bring the Hair to its natural color by making anew the coloring matter in the roots of the hair.

It is a mistaken notion that oil or grease will restore the hair, as nothing can be more injurious. The Alpine Hair Balm will restore the skin and save the hair of those who have been sick with fever or any disease.

Prepared by C. A. P. MASON, Providence, R. I.

M. P. IYVES & CO., 83 Milk st., Boston, Mass. Sole agents for the United States and Canada. For sale in Providence by: E. P. Mason & Co., Thomas W. Edley, J. Balch & Son, O. Sumner, M. B. J. G. Hassard, Amos Palmer, M. D., Wm. B. Blanding, A. J. Smith, Chambers & Calder, Albert L. Calder, Benjamin B. Bailey, A. H. Field, Albert G. Dana, Doctor Holmes, H. B. Huntington, Pardon Sheldon, B. Huntington, L. D. Anthony & Co., For sale in Newport, by Hazard & Caswell, R. L. Taylor and R. H. Fiddle. July-1y

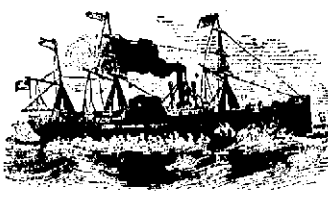

MARRIED.

In Worcester, 16th inst., Henry B. Franklin, of Providence, and Emily M. Harrington, of this city.

DIED.

In Providence, 24th inst., Miss Fannie Marshall, daughter of the late Lewis Marshall, in the 53th year of her age.

LATEST NEWS.

BY TELEGRAPH.

ARREST OF THE CHILD POISONER AT CINCINNATI.

NEW YORK, July 24.—The man who scattered the poisoned lozenges along Buckeye street, proves to be a drunken German, who pursues the vocation of selling poisoned lozenges for the destruction of rats. Only one child has died, and the rest will probably follow.

THE PANAMA MASSACRE.

WASHINGTON, July 24.—Gen. Herran has had an interview with Gen. Cass, and negotiated proceedings satisfactory for redress in the matter of the Panama massacre.

WASHINGTON, July 23.—The Indian hostilities in Minnesota are serious.

A second dispatch from Gov. Medary was received last night, asking authority to enrol five companies of volunteers. L. Pitchett, Clerk in the Indian Bureau, has been dispatched to Minnesota to examine and report. If the regulars in the Territory, and now on their march thither, should be insufficient, volunteers will be called out.

FROM WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, July 23. Official despatches were received here to day from Kansas, including one from Governor Walker, defending himself from Southern attacks, and detailing the condition of affairs in Lawrence, in justification of his present conduct.

Gov. Wright, Minister to Berlin, has arrived here to receive his instructions, and will leave for Prussia on the first of August.

A correspondence has been opened by the Patent Office with the Court of Directors of the United Company of Merchants of England, trading to the East Indies, with the view of establishing an interchange of documents and deeds.

ALMANAC.

	sun	sun	moon	moon	high
	sets	rises	sets	rises	water
Monday	4 40	7 31	0 6	3 23	6 59
Tuesday	4 41	7 30	0 6	sets.	7 56
Wednesday	4 42	7 30	0 6	8 53	8 48
Thursday	4 43	7 29	0 6	9 9	9 63
Friday	4 44	7 28	0 6	9 29	10 22
Saturday	4 45	7 27	0 6	9 49	11 01

NEW THIS MORNING.

JUST RECEIVED—A large lot of Gold Miniature Lockets of various patterns, at reduced prices, at No. 94 Thames-st. July 25

KEEP COOL!

W. F. Shaw's PATENT GAS HEATING AND GAS COOKING STOVES.

THE only true principle whereby all unpleasant and injurious odors are avoided. This apparatus is warranted to cook the food for a family at one quarter part the cost of doing the same by any other gas stove ever offered to the public.

Secured by S. American, 1 English and 1 French letters patent. Invented and patented by W. F. SHAW.

The First Premium and ONLY GOLD MEDAL ever awarded on GAS STOVES by the Massachusetts Charitable Mechanic Association, was awarded to W. F. SHAW, who has also received a medal from the American Institute, N. Y.

These are the only desirable inventions for cooking or heating by gas ever offered to the public, and are the results of upwards of seven years' experiments and experience of the inventor and patentee.

W. F. Shaw's Patent Gas Stove Lamp, or Gas Heater, for holding small quantities of water by being placed over any gas burner.

The undersigned having received the Agency for the sale of the above Stoves, offers them to the public as the very best article yet manufactured for cooking or heating by gas. They are economical and free from odor of any kind, and produce a hot steam and meats superior to coal stoves, and should have a place in every household.

Satisfactory references from reliable parties using them in this city, can be had upon application at my office, where the public are invited to call and examine the articles.

GEO. E. HATHAWAY.

No. 8 Arnold Block, Jr 25—2m 47 North Main-st., Providence.

VALUABLE FARM FOR SALE.—The farm offered for sale is the westerly part of M. Pleasant farm, formerly owned by Joseph Abbott, late of Bristol, fronting on the back road and running towards M. Hope Bay; contains 128 3-4 acres, of which 18 acres are swamp and woodland and the rest upland; strong clay soil. The farm has through it a road running to the sea shore, with privileges of shore bathing and of gravel for farm purposes. The road divides the farm into two parts, running east and west. On the north side of the road are 55 acres and all the buildings; on the south side are 73 acres, comprising the swamp and woodland. The lots fronting on the back road are situated on some of the highest land in the town and command a view from the city of Providence to the ocean on the west, and from far up Taunton River to the ocean on the east.

These lots are about three quarters of a mile from the Depot of the Bristol Railroad. The farm may be purchased entire or in parts, either the north half of the south half, or the front lots with more or less land attached.

For further particulars apply to JACOB BABBITT, Bristol, or J. A. D. JOSEPH, Real Estate Broker, No. 5 Washington Buildings, Jr 25—2m 6w Providence.

NEW BOOKS.—Little Dorrit, bound; Life of Charlotte Bronte; The Professor, by Charlotte Bronte; School Days at Rugby; Spurgeon's Life and Ministry; Spurgeon's Sermons, 1st and 2d series; German Lyrics, by Chas. T. Brooks; The Tongue of Fire, or the true Power of Christianity; A Wreath around the Cross; Unfettered Philosophy, by Mahan; Harper's for August; Putnam's for August; God's for August; Peterson's for August, at A. J. WARD'S, A. 130 Thames-st. Jr 25

FOR SALE.—By a Lady going to Europe, a family horse sound and kind, and a Carriage in good repair. Also, a light four-wheeled Wagon, nearly new. Apply box 395 Post Office. Jr 25—3d

BUILDING LOTS FOR SALE.—Situated on N. Main and 13th Avenues, in lots of 100 and 200 feet, twenty thousand feet—prices low and terms easy. Apply to ALFRED SMITH, Jr 25

AUCTION SALES.

Bank Stock. On Saturday, Sept. the 26th, 1857, at 10 o'clock, A. M.,

Will be sold in front of the Traders Bank, Thirty Shares of the Capital Stock of said Bank, standing in the name of William D. Gifford, (or, so many thereof, as shall be sufficient to pay said Gifford's note for $724, with the interest and incidental expenses, secured by said Stock,) unless the same is previously paid.

Per order of the Directors, BRNE. MCMFORD, Cashier. Newport, July 25th, 1857—4

Furniture.

THERE will be a sale of Furniture, household Goods, &c., at Sealary's Auction and Commission Store, 150 Thames street, on Saturday, July 25th, 1857, at 10 o'clock A. M. Send in your for hire, &c., if you want them sold. Consignments settled on day of sale. Jr 25

FOR SALE.—The house and lot No. 7 Bridge street. The house is new, well built and completely finished, and is well adapted to either one or two families. There is a good well of water on the premises which is conducted into the house on the first and second floors, with good pumps attached.—Terms of sale liberal. For further particulars please apply to JOHN PEABODY, on the premises, or BENJ. M. SEABURY, Auction and Commission Store, 152 Thames street. Jr 25

HARPER'S Magazine, for August—price 25 cents. For sale at TILLEY'S, 128 & 130 Thames-st. Jr 25

PRESERVED Ginger, fresh, at RYAN'S, 17-19 Broad st., I Spring-st. Jr 25

AQUA Scrum Raglans—the newest style of travelling Cloaks, just received by P. LAWTON & BROS. 74 Thames street. Jr 25

FRENCH SKIRTS.—F. LAWTON & BROS. 74 Thames street, have just received a new supply of French Elastic Spring Skirts. Jr 25

GRAND ENTERTAINMENT.

Miss Eloise Bridges, with J. B. Brown, Prof. of Elocution to Mercantile Library Association N. Y., N. Y. University, &c. &c., will give a

Dramatic and Pantomime Entertainment, Consisting of varied selections from Shakespeare and the Poets, at the FILLMORE HOUSE.

Saturday Evening, July 26th, 1857. Cards of admission 50 cents, and may be obtained at Newton & Bros., C. E. Hammett's, and A. J. Ward's, and at the hotels, or the door. To commence at 8 o'clock. Jr 25

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

TABLE CUTLERY.—A fresh supply of Ivory handle and common styles, just received and for sale low, at 117 Thames street. W. H. BLISS. Jr 25

REFRIGERATORS.—A small lot of Refrigerators at reduced prices. Anyone in want will find them selling very low, at 117 Thames street. W. H. BLISS. Jr 25

SUMMER RANGES.—A few more of these beautiful summer Ranges that have given such good satisfaction this season, for sale at 117 Thames street and warranted. W. H. BLISS. Jr 25

WE have just opened a large assortment of Decanters of all styles and prices.—Those in want would do well to examine our stock. C. T. HAZARD & CO., 63 & 65 Thames-st. Jr 25

SLEOP Jars and Foot Tubs—Just received a large lot of Jars and Tubs, at C. T. HAZARD & CO'S, 63 & 65 Thames-st. Jr 25

CANTON CHINA.—We have now in store a fine lot of Canton China, plates, dishes, covered dishes, and tumblers, in fact everything that is now imported, at the old prices. C. T. HAZARD & CO., 63 & 65 Thames-st. Jr 25

GLASS JARS, suitable for confectionery or preserves, for sale very low at the CITY MUSIC STORE, 83 Thames street. Jr 25

STARCH of the best quality, soap of all kinds, shampoos, young ladies' and children's, all at the lowest prices; Stewarts' refined and Havana sugars; Muscovado molasses; raisins; currants; citron and pure ground spices; salt soda and cream tartar; a variety of choice brands of segars; olive and white oil, &c., may be found at STEINE'S, No. 14 Washington-square, 1 & 3 Meeting street. Jr 25

WANTED.—A waitress who has good references as to honesty and capacity. A

